

Island Glamping Package Overview

Island hop by kayak through clear waters, past colourful fishing communities, and to white sand beaches. Dine on local seafood, enjoy island adventures, and sleep under the stars--everything's provided!

Paddling toward our island campsite, we'll stop on one of the exceptional white sand beaches for a swim, energizing yoga session, or to simply soak up the sun and salt air. Keep your camera ready, as you'll see lots of marine wildlife, including seals, otters, osprey, cormorants, and eagles.

At our private island beach side campsite, you'll be greeted with fresh, Nova Scotia oysters and local wines, as you settle into your 'sea'fari-style East Coast Glamping canvas wall tent!

Explore the island's coast on a short hike, by stand-up paddleboard, or with a stand-up paddleboard yoga session--if you dare! All our meals feature local produce and seafood, including fresh scallops seared in award-winning Ironworks Bluenose Rum and lobster steamed in seaweed, all prepared just for you over an open fire! When the sun sets, gather your friends for a night paddle under the stars, before having fun around the campfire.

Experience Includes:

- Experienced certified guide and a wilderness chef
- Meet local residents, like the last lighthouse keeper in the LaHave Islands
- All meals and snacks, feature local delicacies, such as scallops, oysters, lobster, water buffalo mozzarella, sourdough breads and freshly-baked goods
- Guided kayaking, paddleboarding, and yoga sessions, including quality paddling equipment
- East Coast Glamping Maritime-furnished canvas wall tents, with off-the-ground beds, quality bedding, camp chairs, and ambient lights

A note about food:

We believe that incredible meals are essential to a memorable backcountry experience. Our guides pride themselves on their excellent camp cooking skills and we outfit all of our trips with fresh, locally sourced ingredients and regional specialties. We are also accustomed to accommodating different tastes and food requirements. Before your trip, you will be contacted by your guide to discuss trip plans and any food preferences you may have. Be prepared to work up an appetite in the fresh air and be extremely well fed!

No experience is necessary!

The experienced guides at Cape LaHave Adventures will take care of everything from logistics, equipment, food preparation, cooking, basic skills instruction, navigation and more. You just need to book your vacation and show up with the spirit of adventure! We can also help you arrange accommodations for before and after your trip. We're here to help!

Conditions: Minimum of four guests required for experience to be offered. Cancellation Policy: We insist on small groups – that’s what makes our experiences special – so there can be no rescheduling or refunds within 30 days for multi-day tours, unless a suitable replacement is found. If one is found, or for cancellations further in advance, a full refund less a $25 administration fee will be issued. We reserve the right to cancel or alter any experience due to weather or insufficient registration. In these cases, refunds will be issued and we will do our best to reschedule. A suggested packing list for recommended clothing will be emailed to guests one month prior to departure. Guests will also receive a medical and contact form by email, which should be completed and returned prior to departure. Once we have received your completed medical and contact form, we will contact you to discuss food preferences, and any health or mobility concerns. This is also an opportunity for guests to ask any lingering questions about packing and what to expect. We take every precaution to ensure safety, however adventure activity involves risk. We recommend you obtain any personal, medical and cancellation insurance that you may deem appropriate. You’ll be required to sign a waiver before we depart.
